Eat more chicken

Go Chicks!!!

So as of today my little girls t-ball/softball team will have their second game. It's fun! 12 little 5 and 6 year old little girls squealing as they run the bases and try to stop grounders out in the field.

Starkville P&R did a great job of removing competition in the younger ages. Everybody on each team bats all the way around and everybody plays in the field. I intend on moving my players all over the field, we are trying to teach the game, not trying to win at all cost.

politically incorrect, the girls are absorbing being the cute little yellow chicks that they are thinking about.

I always liked this famous restaurants brand and their advertising was always hilarious to me. So the cow is the mascot, but you are selling chicken. What a great idea! That is like the mascot for Ragchewing pushing Morse code products. Thinking of . . .

This micro telegraph key is super cool! It's an all black camel back key that is liquid smooth and has precision steel ball bearings. It includes an open end stereo cable.

Play ball with the big boyz! Type on a keyboard or use an Iambic paddle. You see what you're sending and hear and see what you are receiving in English on the LCD display. Cool!

MFJ-564 Chrome or Black Iambic paddles have a full range of adjustment in tension and contact spacing. They feature self-adjusting nylon and steel needle bearings, heavy duty machined frame and non-skid feet on a heavy chrome or black base. Be the coolest of the cool with one of these babies on your desk!
